ABSTRACT

Systems, methods and computer-executable instructions therefore are described herein for a user interface for user selection of directional shadows applied to rendered objects.